

Planning a trip to China? Want to fit in and communicate?

The Australian American Association is organising a series of language and culture classes, beginning with Chinese.

Your Teacher: Ma Li-li, “Lilly”, teaches Chinese at RMIT University and interprets for visiting delegations. During a traditional Chinese dinner, she’ll explain Chinese cuisine and eating customs. Then we’ll have training in basic expressions and proper pronunciation.

Classes must be small - we can take only 20 people! but we plan to schedule more Chinese classes later, if there is demand. We intend also to offer Vietnamese, Japanese and other Asian languages.

Cost per person: $45

Secure your place by calling 8636 9100. Ask for the “Triple A Office” and pay by cheque or credit card.

[If you want drinks at dinner besides tea, this is at your cost.]

Date: Wednesday, 26 September 2007

Time: 6:30 pm to 9:30 pm

Venue: King Bo Chinese Restaurant,
218 Russell Street, corner of Little Bourke St
